A black and white manga-style illustration. On the left side, there is a large, bold title composed of the characters 'H', 'O', 'O', 'H', 'O', 'O'. The 'H's have diagonal hatching, while the 'O's have circular hatching. On the right side, a muscular man with a mustache and a determined expression is shown from the waist up. He wears a light-colored, open-collared robe over a dark, solid-colored garment. A circular emblem with the character '殺' (shik) is visible on his chest. He has a tattoo of two crossed swords on his upper left arm. His right hand is clenched into a fist, which is partially visible at the bottom right. The background consists of dense, radiating hatching lines that create a sense of motion or energy.
